A Portland, Me., paper says of "In the Sunny South" which appears at the Barre opera house next Wednesday evening: "In the Sunny South was the attraction at the opera house on Saturday night and a good sized audience was present. The show was a good one of its class. The singing and dancing was excellent. The company is composed of 30 clever coons, real ones, and they all seemed to enjoy themselves as well as the audience did. The breakdowns were the real southern negro article, and some of the songs were most melodious. The company gave a street parade at noon Saturday with its own brass band which attracted considerable attention. The band was considerably better than many of the shrill voiced aggregations that travel with shows of the class of In the Sunny South."

"I Thank the Lord!"

cried Hannah Plant of Little Rock, Ark., "for the relief I got from Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It cured my fearful running sores, which nothing else would heal and from which I had suffered for five years." It is a marvelous healer for cuts, burns and wounds. Guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy and Parlor Drug Store. Price 25c.

MARSHFIELD

A GOOD RESOLVE.

Barre Lawyer Sets Example That Other Smokers Would Do Well to Follow.

One of our most prominent lawyers has made a resolution that he recommends to other smokers, without asking any fee.

For years he has been smoking ten-cent and fifteen-cent cigars and often without getting one that was satisfactory. When in C. H. Kendrick & Co.'s drug store a month ago, they recommended a 5c cigar, Wadsworth Bros' Cigars, and the result is that he has resolved to buy no other cigar, for he knows that he is getting a better cigar than he has heretofore bought.

Other smokers should follow this example. The Wadsworth Bros' Cigars is made from the best Havana tobacco, not flavored or doctored in any way, and is better than cigars that are usually retailed for double the money. Drop in at C. H. Kendrick & Co.'s store and get a Chico.

The Youth's Companion in 1904.

During 1904 the Youth's Companion will publish in 52 weekly issues:

7 serial stories, each a book in itself, reflecting American life in home, camp and field.

50 special articles contributed by famous men and women—travelers, essayists, soldiers, sailors, statesmen and men of affairs.

200 thoughtful and timely editorial articles on important public and domestic questions.

250 complete stories of the best of living story-writers—stories of character, stories of achievement, stories of humor.

1,000 notes on current events and discoveries in the field of science and natural history.

2,000 bright and amusing anecdotes, items of strange and curious knowledge and sketches.

This is what The Companion offers its readers during 1905. And the quality of it is fully equal to the quantity. The paper is interesting without being sensational, bright without being flashy, elevating and strengthening without being preachy—a paper for every member of the family.

A full announcement of the new volume will be sent with sample copies of the paper to any address on request. The new subscriber for 1906 who sends $1.75 for the new volume at once will receive free all the remaining issues for 1905, including the Double Holiday Numbers; also The Companion's "Minutemen" Calendar for 1906, lithographed in twelve colors and gold.

PENSIONS FOR RICH MEN.

One Millionaire Already Successful Applicant—Justification of Plan.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Pensions of millionaires is one of the new developments under the executive order of last year making age the only disability necessary for the granting of a service pension.

According to Commissioner of Pensions Warner, the application of a millionaire for a pension has been favorably passed upon recently. He did not want the pension, according to the commissioner, on account of the money, but simply to perfect his record of honorable service in the civil war.

The commissioner does not look upon this class of pensions as an undue burden for the government to bear. He takes the view that the money so distributed is used by the applicant to relieve want elsewhere. In the case of the millionaire pensioner, he has knowledge that the recipient has just made a bequest of hundred thousand dollars for benevolent purposes.

SILVER APPENDICITIS CURE.

German Physician Has Extraordinary Results With New Solution.

Washington, Nov. 6.—A new method of treatment of appendicitis, discovered by a German physician, which, if it maintains the efficiency demonstrated in experiments, will soon make fatal results of this disease rare. Consul-General Gauthier of Frankfurt, Germany, has reported the facts to the state department.

The treatment consists in the use of a silver solution known as "collargol." It is a form of pure silver, soluble in water. Dr. Moosbrugger of Leutkirch, Germany, has used it in appendicitis, internally and externally, and the results have been extraordinary. Of seventy-two cases all were cured without surgery save two. Within two or three days after treatment an improvement was noticeable in incipient cases, and in several cases a week of internal and external treatment was required.

The antiseptic property is silver is thought to explain the curative efficacy of this solution in cases of appendicitis.

Death of Man Well Known in Vermont.

Edgar Harding, of the firm of Harding, Whitman & Co., dry goods merchants, a millionaire, and well known as a yachtman and clubman, died suddenly Saturday night, October 28, at his home in Boston of heart disease, from which he had suffered for several years.

Mr. Harding's parents were born in Cambridge, and his father for many years operated large woolen mills at Winooski, before coming to Boston. His son was born in Haverhill, Mass., and attended school at the Vermont Episcopal Institute at Burlington, where he had as a classmate, Percival W. Clement, of Rutland. Later he went to Cambridge, Mass., being further educated in the University city, and afterward received his business training in Boston.

He was largely interested in Vermont, and in a way was a Vermontor. While Mr. Clement operated the Rutland railroad, he was one of its directors and a large shareholder. He had many friends in the state.

Mr. Harding was 60 years old, and was one of the most successful dry-goods commission merchants of the country. The firm, long known as Harding, Colby & Co., was founded by his father, Charles L. Harding, who made a fortune, leaving several million dollars when he died, in 1891. The firm is agent for large woolen mills in Lawrence, Dedham, and many other places. Mr. Harding conducted the business after the death of his father.

MONEY FROM POPPIES.

New Industry for New England Found by Government.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—A big New England crop of poppies, capable of supplying all drug stores between the two oceans with opium and morphine, is the picture held up by Dr. T. Galloway, chief of the bureau of plant industry in the department of agriculture. A series of experiments in raising drug plants has been under way at the Vermont experiment station for two years. Dr. Galloway says these experiments have now proceeded far enough to warrant the statement that the poppy will flourish in New England.

"About $5,000,000 worth of drug plants are imported into this country annually," declared Dr. Galloway yesterday. "I am speaking of drug plants which probably can be grown here. Many of them grow here now, but only as weeds. If cultivated they would have a commercial value. The men detailed from the department of agriculture to the Vermont station have been experimenting with hemp and as well as with the poppy, and the results have been very gratifying."

Two Old Documents.

We (and our readers) are indebted to William F. Baxter, Esq., of Chicago, for permission to copy from the originals two old documents of local interest, secured from his extensive collection of Vermont autographs and manuscripts.

OLD TAX RECEIPT.

Chittenden County, Burlington, 30th December, 1795.

Received of Enos Munson four shillings and nine pence, lawful money, on the half-penny land-tax granted by the General Assembly October, 1791; for the purpose of raising thirty thousand dollars, it being in full for the tax and cost on one hundred acres of land on the original right of Walter Ward in the town of Mansfield, in said county.

STEPHEN PEARL, Sheriff.

The mixed currency, shillings, pence and dollars, in use at that time, is noticeable. The town of Mansfield ceased to exist over fifty years ago, being divided by a line run along the crest of Mansfield Mountain, and the east and west halves annexed to Stowe and Underhill, respectively.

AN ANCIENT RECOMMENDATION.

Our Montpelier readers especially will be interested in the following recommendation, drawn up on the day in which the act providing for the erection of the second State House passed the Legislature:

To His Excellency William A. Palmer, Governor of the State of Vermont.

We, the undersigned, being well acquainted with Daniel Baldwin, Esq., of Montpelier, would recommend him as a suitable person to be appointed a committee agreeably to the act of the Legislature to superintend the building of a State House. He is a person well qualified, and being well acquainted with the building, and also of the mechanic work, having served seven years with one of the best builders in the State. We have the utmost confidence in his integrity and believe him as well qualified, and that he would perform the duties, if appointed, as faithfully, and beneficially to the State, as any other person in this vicinity.

Montpelier, Nov. 5th, 1822.

J. Y. Vail, C. L. Knapp, Ormel H. Smith, R. W. Keith, Joseph Reed, H. F. James, Citizens of Montpelier.

Members of the House of Representatives

Of the representatives who thus commended Mr. Baldwin, Smith—Burlington, Royce of Rutland, Smith—speaker of the House of St. Albans, Shaw of Roxbury, Carter of Barre, Harding of Lowell, Barber of Fairfield and Lyman of Hartford. It was a good list of names but it did not carry the day. Lebeus Edgerton of Randolph being appointed superintendent of construction.

TO GATHER IN THE WIGWAM.

Red Men to Be Addressed by Their Great Sachem.

A special council of Iroquois Tribe, No. 16, will be held Tuesday evening, November 7, at 7 o'clock. Every Red Man in the hunting grounds is asked to be present. Great Sachem Frank Connor of Massachusetts and Vermont will be in the wigwam to meet the chiefs and give a long talk on the history of the Red Men of the Iroquois. An invitation is extended to the chiefs of the East Barre Tribe. Let every chief be present. Corn and venison will be served.

"The Sunny South."

J. C. Rockwell's Sunny South company opened a three night's engagement at the Academy Friday evening, and for two and a half hours had the large audiences in constant good humor, either in roars of laughter or applauding the performers.

There are stars with the company, of high-class vocalists, an even balanced organization of colored performers, presenting an entertainment which gives the greatest enjoyment as the audience is continually kept amused, and the performance being given with a snap that adds to its general success, and as clean as a pastoral drama.

The first part, "Sunrise on the Plantation," consisted of songs and dances by the company, every member taking his or her turn in quick succession, and the audience showed their appreciation of the work of the performers by heartily redounding every number. All of them can dance, and every one of them has different steps, which they introduce in the buck and wing dancing at the close of the plantation festivities. Halifax Gardner theatre, Monday.

NEW MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Practically Ready for Occupancy—Year Opens December 2.

Burlington, Nov. 6.—The construction of the Medical college is practically completed, workmen being now engaged in putting on the finishing touches to the carpenter and joiner work and the wall decorations.

A force of men will soon be occupied in erecting stationary shelving and desks in the laboratories and placing other furnishings of the rooms in preparation for the opening of the department on Saturday, December 2.

The apparatus, which has been housed for a year or more in the Vilas house at the corner of Pearl and Prospect streets, was moved recently to the new building and the rooms in the old mill used by the medical department since the destruction by fire of the old building have also been vacated. A quantity of new apparatus and surgical instruments have been purchased in Germany, and the laboratories and dissecting rooms in the new college building will be equipped with the most modern appliances obtainable.

Funeral of L. E. Palmer.

The funeral of L. E. Palmer was held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Burlington Methodist church, a large number of relatives and friends gathered to pay a last tribute to his memory. The members of Burlington Lodge, No. 100, F. & A. M., together with visitors from other lodges, attended the service in a body and rendered the Masonic service at the grave. The Rev. G. W. Church, soloist, and Miss Alice Nash, organist. The bearers were George, Emerson and Walter Palmer, brothers of the deceased, and Stanley, Ray and George Tuttle. There was a profusion of floral offerings, including many handsome designs.

The Masonic service at the grave was conducted by H. H. Ross, grand secretary of the grand lodge, who was asked to act in that capacity by W. E. Willard, master of Burlington lodge. When the service at the grave was concluded the members of the lodge returned to the Masonic Temple, where Mr. Ross, who went to Texas and accompanied the remains of Mr. Palmer to Burlington, told of the last illness of the deceased and of the courtesies extended to Mr. Palmer and to himself by Texas Masons.

Cattle Dead in a Car.

G. A. Miller reports a case of hardship on cattle which he noticed at the depot in Bellows Falls, Sunday. At 8 a. m. he noticed a carload of young cattle standing in the yard, which had already been standing there seven hours and which was destined for Cold River. One of the cattle was dead and two or three others were being trampled. He notified R. J. Armstrong, special police, and Mr. Armstrong investigated and found five of the cattle dead. He could do nothing to better conditions. S. M. Folson of the Boston and Maine railroad was asked regarding the case. He said he did not see the car but had been told it was in unusually bad condition. He thought that the slipper had tried to crowd too many cattle into one car.
